

I can iron an item of clothing & set up an ironing board/iron (no trip hazards)	I can plan and make a simple healthy meal for my family.	I understand the care instructions on a piece of clothing & can load a washing machine.	I can sew on a button or a name label.	I can talk about two famous artists and say what I like about their work (giving examples).
I can use a telephone to give or receive a message to a family member.	I can name 20 capital cities and identify 20 flags from around the world.	I know how to measure my own fitness and I have set myself targets – I'm making progress.	I can name and locate at least three countries from each of the seven continents.	I can name the places of worship for Christians, Muslims, Jews, Hindus, Sikhs, Buddhists.
I can name four liquids, four gases and four solids.	I can put photos into my documents (noting copyright rules) and know which search engines are safe to use.	I can introduce myself in French (name/age/where I live) & ask two simple questions.	I know how to connect a computer to a printer or camera.	I can prepare and deliver a short presentation on a charity - explaining its aims and work.
I can explain why Easter is both a sad and happy time for Christians around the world.	I can give an example of how humans have changed the environment and the impact it has on other living things.	I can identify five birds and five trees common to my area.	I have asked questions and listened to the memories of an older person and understand why they are important.	I can explain the water cycle.