

Dear Year 6,

We hope you are all still well and enjoying the beautiful sunshine this week.

We hope your home learning is going to plan and you are keeping up to date with your English and Maths every day. Please continue with the Hamilton and White Rose lessons.

Today, we have set up Class Blogs in Purple Mash which you can access through your Purple Mash logon. If you cannot remember your logon, please email one of us, who can give it to you.

You can use this blog to post pictures of your home learning or to write about it. We would love to hear about any books you have been reading and can recommend, or any other ways you have been keeping busy and active. This is a great opportunity to get creative so if you have been painting or drawing, we would enjoy you sharing photographs of your artwork on the blog.

When you post, please include your first name in your text. However, as this is a blog do not post pictures of yourselves. The blog is not public but this is safe internet practice. All blogs will need to be authorised by us first but once it is approved you should all be able to see everyone's contributions.

If you are using the internet remember to stay safe online. You can find more information on the thinkuknow website.

Have you tried any of the home learning challenges? These are on the school website and include: sewing on a button or making a meal for your family! You might enjoy having a look at these.

We really do miss you all and are still hoping to return for some of the summer term.

We trust you are all being good!
Stay safe and we will see you soon.

Miss Dawson and Mrs McCann.
